Electrical food slicer compact[7]
Slender body but strong performance – this is food slicer compact[7].

Metal construction and functional design are its significant features. The slicer requires very little space on the worktop because of its slim shape. All parts providing for stability are made of metal, making the machine robust and ensuring precise slicing.

The slice thickness can be adjusted continuouly up to approx. 23 mm. The detachable carriage allows to also cut larger pieces of food. A food tray and cable compartment are included.

A smooth ham- and sausage circular blade is available for every ritter food slicer.
